Additional Information

is also important to note that a number of changes and improvements were made to the 2014 model. An important improvement is that the water tank was moved to the front of the boat to improve seaworthiness. This boat has been particularly well looked after. You can see that in the interior. It has retained its gorgeous dark colour and has not faded. The previous owner was very careful about drawing the curtains, pulling down the blinds and not least having a screen on the front window. Princess V48 has a large bathing platform with beautiful teak. The lounge on the aft deck is comfortable and sociable, and you have access to the Wet bar with barbecue. A large sliding glass door opens and you enter a very bright and pleasant cockpit. Here you have a good view out of the large windows, and the driver's position is particularly clear. You sit very comfortably in the beautiful lounge, and if you open the large glass roof, the sun comes in. Below deck you will find a spacious galley with a large fridge and freezer. Furthermore, there are two large cabins with a double bed, both of which have their own toilet room with shower. The toilet room belonging to the master cabin has heating cables on the door. There is plenty of cupboard space and storage space around the boat.
